If you feel like some fresh air on your lunch break, then take a look at the map adjacent. Various routes around the campus are marked out, alongside the public footpaths that lead onto the nearby golf course. Walking around the periphery of the campus takes about 40 minutes. You can take in many of points of interest listed on this leaflet.

The landscaping team take their approach to biodiversity on campus carefully. Efforts are made to create habitats and environments that promote biodiversity on campus. The team are conscious to manage and maintain existing habitats and species on campus rather than trying to encourage and introduce more, that could ultimately unsettle the existing university.
